Description
In this patch:
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• explanation of the class concept, with examples;• docs for all class methods (most of them just say "Like Enumerable#<methodname>, but chains operation to be lazy-evaluated.", but I believe they are useful this way because now have proper call-sequences and link to corresponding Enumerable's explanations)• simplified example for ::new to emphasize the main concept• Enumerable#lazy docs are slightly lightened and linked to this class for more in-depth explanations.
For the reference, currently class docs are looking like this: https://ruby-doc.org/core-2.6/Enumerator/Lazy.html
