

Ruby master - Bug #7642

IRB indentation is gone

01/01/2013 02:08 AM - zzak (Zachary Scott)

Status:	Rejected
Priority:	Normal
Assignee:	keiju (Keiju Ishitsuka)
Target version:	2.0.0
ruby -v:	2.0.0
Description		Backport:
This is indentation of irb in 1.9.3-p362: http://screencloud.net/v/srk8 It is ok, but no out-dent on 'end'. This could be fixed. Now compare with irb in trunk: http://screencloud.net/v/5uVd Indentation is completely missing.

IRB default behavior is no auto-indent.
So, this is the correct behavior.

Thank you Keiju-san.

How do you enable auto-indent?

How do you enable auto-indent?

For example, .irbrc:

IRB.conf[:PROMPT][:AUTO_INDENT] = {
: PROMPT_I => "%N(%m):%03n:%i> ",
: PROMPT_N => "%N(%m):%03n:%i> ",
: PROMPT_S => "%N(%m):%03n:%i%i ",
: PROMPT_C => "%N(%m):%03n:%i* ",
: RETURN => "=> %s\n",
: AUTO_INDENT => true
}
```

and, you do:

```
% irb --prompt auto-indent

Keiju-san, thank you for the explanation.

I also found this method:

irb_context.auto_indent_mode = true

What do you think about enable this by default?

I can open a feature request.

Yes. other way:

IRB.conf[:AUTO_INDENT] = true

What do you think about enable this by default?

Shell(bash, zsh) is also not default.
I do not think this feature is easy to use.
So, people who want to use this feature may be set it.
